Hartford, Conn., in October, 1914, has left to the Hatch library a collection of 546 volumes from his private library. The collection contains 331 bound volumes and 215 unbound volumes and pamphlets, and is made up principally of books on Italian literature. This is the largest and most important gift made to the library during the past year. Dr. Bingham was a clergyman and writer of note. He lived for a time in Italy and published several volumes relating to Italian life and letters, the best known comfortable and pleasant place for the of which is his "Gemme della Letteratura Italiana." He received the degree of doctor of divinity from Western Reserve University in 1869. The library teacher at all times when boys are free has also received as a gift a set which it was on the point of purchasing, the works of James Buchanan, edited by ful chapel and the whole improvement family. The work is said to be one of the most important contributions to American history published in the last decade.

Verse Worth Remembering.

The Calf Path.

One day, through the primeval wood, A calf waiked home, as good calves should: at made a trail all bent askew;
A crooked trail, as all calves do.

Since then two hundred years have fled, And, I infer, the calf is dead. But still he left behind his trail, And thereby hangs my moral tale.

The trail was taken up next day By a lone dog that passed that way; And then a wise bell wether sheep Pursued the trail o'er vale and steep. And drew the flock behind him, too. As good bell wethers always do.

And from that day, o'er hill and Through those old woods a path was

And many men wound in and out, And dodged and turned and bent about And uttered words of righteous wrath Because 'twas such a crooked path. But still they followed—do not
